FALSTAFF A MAN OF COURAGE.

Mr. Editor,

Suppose half a dozen persons, after seeing Shakespeare's tragedy of Henry IV. performed at one of our theatres, were to adjourn to a neighboring tavern to refresh themselves and talk over the beauties of the play, and in discussing the merits of that prodigious offspring of the poet's brain, Falstaff, and laughing heartily at that singular case for his person and precious life, which he is incessantly made to betray, one of the company should affirm that all the others were mistaken—that the public in general were mistaken in their prepossessions about the fat knight's character; for that the said Falstaff not only was not intended by Shakespeare, but upon the plain intent and meaning of all that is done or said by him or of him in the several plays in which he is introduced or alluded to, could not, by fair inference, be considered a constitutional coward. To say that such an assertion would be thought paradoxical, would be to say too little. Some would be disposed to treat it as a notion too absurd to be answered; some would laugh, upon the supposition that the propounder of it had a mind for a joke; some would regard it as a trap for an argument; but the probability is that not one of them would give himself the trouble to examine how far the proposition was tenable. I am sure that nine hundred and ninety-nine in a thousand of those who had ever read the character, or seen it acted, or heard it talked of, would as soon think of entering into an argument to prove that one and two make three, or of assenting to a proposition that two and two made five, as enter into a contest upon a point, to their judgments, so very manifest; and I confess that I myself once made one of the number. I am not now, however, altogether so sure. Having met with a complete refutation of the old taken-for-granted notions about Falstaff, I thought the subject well worth examination. I laid aside my dogmatism—I considered the argument, and, in order to give it fair play, read over again the character in every play into which Shakespeare has introduced it, and carefully perused all that is put by the poet into the mouths of other characters respecting it, and I am decidedly of opinion that Falstaff was introduced by the author for a character of a certain kind of courage—a courage, as the writer to whom I am indebted for this discovery* says, out of the guidance of any thing like principle.

To me (says this ingenious gentleman) it appears that the leading quality in Falstaff's character, and that from which all the rest take their color, is a high degree of wit and humor, accompanied with great vigor and alacrity of mind. This quality, so accompanied, led him probably very early into life, and made him highly acceptable to society; so acceptable as to make it seem unnecessary for him to acquire any other virtue. Hence his continual debaucheries and dissipations of every kind. He seems by nature to have had a mind free from malice or any evil principle; but he never took the trouble of acquiring any good one. He found himself caressed and beloved with all his faults, which were all connected with humor, and for the most part grew out of it. As he had no vices but such as he thought might openly be professed, so he appeared more disolute through ostentation. To the character of wit and humor, to which all his other qualities conformed themselves, he added a very necessary support, that of the profession of a soldier. He had from nature, as I presume to say, a spirit of boldness and enterprise, which, in a military age, though employment was only occasional, kept him always above contempt, secured him an honorable reception among the great, and suited best both with his particular mode of humor and of vice: thus living continually in society—may, even in tavern, and indulging himself, and being indulged by others in every debauchery; drinking, whoring, gluttony and ease; assuming a liberty of fiction necessary, perhaps, to the display of his wit, and often falling into falsity and lies, he set, by degrees, all sober reputation at defiance, and finding eternal resources in his wit, he borrows, shifts, de-lays, and even robs without dishonor; laughter and approbation attend his greatest excesses, and being governed visibly by no settled bad principle or malicious design, ion and humor account for and cover all. By degrees, however, and through indulgence, he acquires inveterate bad habits, becomes an humorist, grows enormously corpulent, and falls into the infirmities of age, yet never quits all the time one single levity or vice of youth, or loses any of that cheerfulness of mind which had enabled him to pass through this course with ease to himself and delight to others; and thus, at last, mixing youth and age, enterprise and corpulency, wit and folly, poverty and expensiveness, title and buffoonery, innocence as to purpose and wickedness as to practice, neither incurring hatred by bad principle or contempt by cowardice, yet involved in circumstances productive of imputation in both; a butt and a wit, a humorist and a man of humor, a touchstone and a laughing stock, a jester and a jest, has Sir John Falstaff, taken at that period of life in which we see him, become the most perfect comic character that ever was exhibited.

Mr. O. SULLIVAN, the Consul of the United States at Mogadore, in the Kingdom of Morocco, has officially informed his government, under date of the 15th of August last, that authentic intelligence had reached Mogadore of the Plague's prevailing in Algiers. [Nat. Intel.]

The Delaware Watchman of the 8th inst. gravely gives the following "Con-siderations."—It is supposed, from certain deductions, that communications of the most important nature will be made to Congress at or soon after the commencement of the session. Of the nature of such communications we are not prepared to speak; but we are mistaken if there will not be closed doors early in the session, and that for the best reason.

New-York, Oct. 9.

For some days past, the city has been thrown into a state of commotion by what has been generally supposed an usurpation of the military commander of this District, who it seems had commenced the erection of certain buildings on the north end of the Battery, offensive to the citizens of this metropolis. A remonstrance from the constituted authority of the city, was received by the commanding general with apparent indifference. The hon. the corporation of this great commercial depot felt, as they ought to feel, the full weight of their importance. They proceeded with firm, cool and becoming dignity. At mid-day yesterday, the heat subsided, and the respectable and incensed throng upon the Battery dispersed—the contest having taken a favorable and pacific turn. The workmen employed were suddenly stopped just in time to prevent a painful struggle between the civil and military authorities. The general prudently gave way, and the honest and indignant feeling of the citizens prevailed. Thus, happily, in peace we are friends, and we have a well grounded hope that hereafter no event will occur to produce war between the soldier and the citizen. The executive is now to decide, and we fondly repose upon the anticipation. [Gazette.]

Charlotte, October 6.

We have been favored with the following copy of a letter, dated

"St. Mary's, 27th Sept. 1817.

"On Monday last, the Spanish forces embarked from Amelia Island, and those on the Main took up their line of march for St. Augustine. The militia had previously returned to their homes, completely disgusted with the service of the Royalists—and have since made their peace with the liberating army.

"Com. Aury has been elected captain-general, Col. Irwin commandant of the land forces, R. Hubbard, Esq. governor of the two Floridas, Henry Yonge collector, and William Ogilby marshal, and every thing going on well. The prizes now in port, are two Spanish brigs and two ships, containing upwards of three thousand boxes of sugar, a quantity of coffee, indigo, cochineal and specie; and a large ship is now coming in, laden with sugar and hides. The whole property now about in these waters, is said to be worth half a million of dollars. Cash has only begun to circulate since the arrival of Com. Aury. He having loaned sufficient money for paying the troops, and for other emergencies. Salt provisions and all kinds of bread stuffs begin to be in demand.

Patriot.

On the 25th ult. a duel was fought at Manandina, by two officers of the patriot army—Lieutenants Jones and Hart—both of Charleston, S. C. The latter gentleman received the ball of his antagonist in the right thigh. It is not considered mortal.

October 7.

We omitted to state on Friday last, some circumstances connected with the delivering up of 3 American seamen, and a boy, by the officers of the Venezuelan brig America Libre, in consequence of which it may have been supposed by some that they were forcibly taken from on board the brig by the revenue cutter.—The facts are these.—The above mentioned men wrote to Thos. H. Jervey, Esq. surveyor of the port, stating that they were Americans, and requested his aid in procuring their release. Mr. Jervey applied immediately to Gen. Villerat, telling him at the same time that he applied as a private citizen and had made no report to the U. S. attorney—the general behaved with the greatest politeness, and assured Mr. Jervey that every person who could produce proof of his being an American should be immediately released—the said men and boy did so, and were accordingly given up.—The cutter was ordered down for the purpose only of bringing them up to town. Boston, Oct. 7.

It has been said that the Macedonian or John Adams frigate, was to sail in about a fortnight for South America with commissions. The Macedonian lies in ordinary at the Navy Yard, Charlestown, and no orders have been received to equip her.

A French paper mentions that the American ship Mary, which arrived at the port of Havre in May last from China, having been a year in the Pacific Ocean, touched at the Marquesas Islands. A number of persons having come on board the ship while at one of these islands, the crew thought they might safely go on shore unarmed; but these insular Anthropophagi immediately killed two of them and ate them. The captain in consequence retained three of the islanders, and they were still on board the ship on her arrival in France, having on the passage become good sailors. Although they had been humanely treated, they were constantly afraid that the captain intended to eat them. One of them pretended that he was one of the Princes of the country. The bodies of all of them had been tattooed.

The celebrated general Jomini, who, during the late war, deserted from the French army, and has been ever since employed by the emperor Alexander, is engaged in writing a history of the two last campaigns; for which work it is said Barclay de Tolly, and other persons of distinguished rank, have furnished him with choice materials. The emperor Alexander has given him leave of absence for two years.

By the ship Heroine, from Liverpool yesterday, Liverpool papers to the 21st have been received. The following is copied from the paper of the 20th:

"We stop the press to state, as important information, that the law prohibiting the importation of flour from the United States, which has been repealed, owing to the high price of corn during the last winter, is again in operation by an order of the Irish government, issued yesterday. No further supplies of American flour can, therefore, be received from Liverpool, arriving after Thursday next; but six weeks are allowed for the reception of flour from the United States."

FROM LONDON.

Eleven days later.

To the polite attention of their respected friend, JOHN MOSE, Esq. the editors of the FREEMAN'S JOURNAL are indebted for the London New Price Current, of Aug. 26 and the London Courier of Friday evening, Aug. 29, received yesterday by an arrival at the Southward, supposed to be the ship Margaret. It is gravely asserted by the Morning Chronicle this day, upon "authority of the first respectability," that, a "treaty has been carried into effect, under the powerful mediation of Russia, binding Great Britain and the other maritime powers, to join in concert to effect the submission and pacification of the Spanish colonies." Indeed, were such a treaty in contemplation, "the powerful mediation of Russia," would not be required for the purpose. It is a novelty, in European politics, for which we are indebted to the Morning Chronicle, to hear of an arrangement between the maritime powers of Europe, in which England is to act subordinately to Russia. England, by her position, by her navy, by her resources, must always take the lead, not follow in the train, of any arrangements of a maritime character. She will not accept, as the reward of her exertions in the cause of Europe, the place assigned her by the "respectable authority" of the Morning Chronicle. This alone would be sufficient to determine the credibility of the statement. But it may be further added, that the maritime powers of Europe have no disposition to force the colonies of South America into unreserved submission. They would be glad to see the struggle between them and the mother country terminated, and if propositions were offered mutually beneficial to the Spanish Americans and to Europe, they would be willing to mediate the acceptance, as well as to guarantee the performance of them.

We have seldom seen a more clumsy fabrication than this of the Morning Chronicle. Without adverting to its illogicalities of phraseology, (to join in concert may be taken as specimen) let us for a moment examine its assertions. First, a "treaty has been carried into effect to effect the submission and pacification of the Spanish colonies." Then, of course, the war in South America is at an end. Not only the insurgents are actually subdued, but they are pacified, which by the bye, would be the hardest part of the said maritime league. Against this treaty must have been discussed and settled, without the knowledge or concurrence of Spain; for though it has been "carried into effect," it is "not known how far the Spanish government will adopt all the clauses." Indeed! where was this celebrated treaty negotiated? Perhaps at Carlsbad, for we do not remember that any Spanish minister was with the water drinkers there. Among the many charges advanced against the "league of continental despots," is the Chronicle politely and amiably designates the sovereigns of Europe, this is surely the strangest, that with the most kind and amicable intention towards Spain, they secretly mediate for her, with the revolted colonies, and carry their intentions "into effect," before they know whether she is willing to accept their mediation in the manner they propose to exert it. So much for the acuteness with which the Morning Chronicle advocates its own cause. Like the manager of a well regulated theatre, however, it takes care to provide a constant succession of novelties for the amusement of the public. The protest of Maria Louisa was first brought out with great ceremony, but had a very short season; for though it lingered through two or three representations, it was completely damned (to use a critic phrase) upon its first appearance. Then came the congress of Carlsbad, a pretty little melo drama, which, by the help of some ingenuity, and a good dramatic personage, was tolerably successful. But one of the principal performers (Prince Metternich) continuing indisposed at the baths of Lucca, and two others (Schwarzenberg and Hardenberg) having left the theatre, it was suddenly withdrawn to make room for the farce of the Maritime Treaty. This has been acted once, and we are sure will be repeated; for we positively and unequivocally assert, in defiance of the "respectable authority" of the Morning Chronicle, that the whole is a falsehood. Now will the Morning Chronicle venture to disclose motives for giving currency to this falsehood?

LOSS OF THE SHIP LANTARO. Extract from the Log Book, and Narrative of the loss of the ship Lantaro, of Charleston, S. C. Capt. Benjamin Mathews.

Sailed from Greenock on Sunday, 25th August, 1817, bound to Charleston, S. C. with a cargo of coals, iron and dry goods, and a crew consisting of 14 persons, including the Captain, 4 cabin passengers, and 29 steerage ditto, in all 47 persons. Nothing material happened, until Tuesday, 2d September, when we carried away the fore-yard in the slings; having a spare spar on board, set the carpenter to work, and on the 4th Sept. got the new yard up, and bent a new foresail. From this date to the 8th instant fresh gales and variable winds.

On the 8th, at noon, a strong breeze and hazy weather.—The pump had been set going as usual, to pump the ship out; at 15 minutes P. M. finding it did not suck, sounded in the well, and found three feet water in the hold, although the ship had been pumped out at 11 A. M.; immediately rigged both pumps, took off the hatches and commenced throwing the dry goods overboard, and every thing else that could be got at. At 5 P. M. finding the water had not gained much on us, and supposing the leak to be on the starboard side, wore ship to the southward. At 6 P. M. the water had increased to 4 feet in the hold; as it gained so fast on this tack, wore ship again to the northward, and examined every part of the ship we could get at, to try and find the leak, but without effect; hauled the courses up, and took in fore and mizen topsails, crew and passengers all employed throwing the cargo overboard, pumping and bailing. At 8 P. M. the fore pump choked, hoisted it up, cleared it and set it going again. At 10 P. M. set a net water in the hold; continued bailing out at the after hatch and cabin, and pumping. By this time all the dry goods, a quantity of iron, and every thing else, that could be got at were thrown overboard. At midnight the water casks in the after hold, began to get loose and roll about; the lee pump constantly choked with the coals as fast as ever we cleared it. From 12 A. M. until 4 P. M. kept constantly pumping and bailing from the after hatch and the cabin, but the water still gaining. At this time eight feet water in the hold. After several attempts to clear the lee pump, the spear broke in it, and we abandoned it. Got a tackle on the mizen stay, slung a barrel over the hatch, and commenced bailing in this manner. From ten until twelve the water continually gaining on us, and no vessel heaving in sight, we concluded to get the long boat and jolly boat out, which was accordingly done, and into which we put twenty gallons of water, one barrel and a half bag of bread, 5 hams, 6 pieces of beef, two cheeses, and one 6 gallon keg of beer, one main royal, and one main top gallant steering sail, two small spars, a half coil of rope, one compass, two quadrants and one chart. At 2 P. M. of the 10th, every person being quite exhausted with the exertions they had made to keep the ship up, gave over pumping and bailing, and the confusion was distressing beyond measure, which occurred in trying who could get into the boats first; the captain was obliged to order the boats to be veered some distance astern of the ship. At 3 P. M. the captain with the greatest difficulty succeeded in getting into the long boat; he found 17 persons including himself in it, and 3 in the jolly boat; have overboard a quantity of clothing in order to lighten the boats as much as possible; lay by the ship all night, in hopes of some vessel passing near us, but at half past three o'clock in the morning, observed the ship to take a sudden lurch seaward; she rose with the west swell and sunk so suddenly, that few in the boats saw her when she disappeared, carrying down with her 27 souls, including two of the ship's company.

We immediately cut the rope by which we hung, and pulled off in order to avoid being drawn into the vortex, and carried down with her. In 15 minutes after the ship sunk, a heavy sea bore the jolly boat on the quarter of the long boat, and store her—she immediately filled, and the men who were in her swam to the long boat, which increased our number to twenty. We then lay by until day light, when we commenced nailing weather cloths round the boat's sides, and rigging a mast. At 11 A. M. being ready, served out a pint of water, and about a pound of bread amongst the twenty persons; and then bore away, steering E. by S. the wind N. W. At half past 11, the lower gudgeon of the rudder gave way, and we were obliged to steer with an out. At half past one, of the 11th, discovered to our great joy a sail right ahead—let the reef out of our sail and stood for her. At 2 P. M. the wind moderating, manned the oars, and kept sailing and pulling towards the vessel. At 3 P. M. squally with rain; observed that the sail had done too for us. At 4 P. M. succeeded in getting along side the brig Jessie, of Dumfries, (Scotland,) captain James Williams for St. Andrews, N. B. who received us on board, and whose kindness and hospitality to us afterwards, will never be forgotten by any individual who was saved.

Thus end the history of this unfortunate ship, and the fatal disaster which befel it. On the 18th of the same month fell in with the ship Halcyon, of and for Philadelphia, capt. Wooster, who although full of passengers, kindly received on board captain Mathews, his mate, Mr. Alsley Hall, Mr. Wm. Hall, Mr. Wm. Weston, Mr. J. C. Ross, and 2 boys. It now only remains to publish the names of the survivors, and of those who unfortunately perished. The ship sunk in lat. 46, 20, N. long. 52, W.

This farm lies in the centre of an excellent neighborhood—is handsomely situated—abundantly watered, and has upon it an ample proportion of wood. The soil is naturally strong, and a considerable portion of it has for some years past, been cultivated according to the most approved rules of modern husbandry. This tract binds upon the river, and contains by patent one thousand and fifty acres, a large proportion of which is rich bottom. The title is old, and indisputable, having been located and surveyed by Gen. Washington before the Revolution. Sully for Sale.

THIS estate, situated in the county of Fairfax, twenty two miles from Alexandria, and the same distance from Georgetown, contains about seven hundred and fifty acres. Little River Turnpike passes through it half a mile from the dwelling house. The situation is handsome, and remarkably healthy; the water is good and abundant. The soil which was originally excellent, has for some years past had the advantage of improving husbandry, Plaster of Paris acting with powerful and immediate effect on all grasses and grains. The field, present a good surface for cultivation, and those now untillied, are covered with red clover. The orchards are very large and thrifty; the collection of table fruit is choice and various. The mansion is spacious and well constructed; the out-houses are conveniently situated, and the whole have been lately thoroughly repaired and painted. The farm houses, which are all nearly new, are expensive and excellent in their kind.

For a gentleman of leisure this would be a delightful residence; and a profitable estate for an active farmer. The title is indisputable, and perfectly unincumbered.

A number of well taught orderly young men, with good stocks and farming utensils of all kinds, and the crops of the present year, if desired, will be at the command of the purchaser.

Application may be made to the subscriber, living on the premises, next the post-office at Pleasant Valley, in Fairfax.

James Kennedy & Son,

BOOKSELLERS,

KING-STREET, ALEXANDRIA.

RESPECTFULLY inform the public that they have just received from

Lee's Medicine Store,

No. 46, Maiden lane, New-York, a fresh supply of the following valuable MEDICINES:

Hamilton's Worm-destroying Lozenges.

Which have within sixteen years past cured an immense number of persons of both sexes of every age and in every situation, of various dangerous complaints arising from WORMS, and from obstructions or foulness in the stomach and bowels.

This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of similar titles as commonly complained of as operating with violence; on the contrary a particular excellence of this remedy is its being suited to every age and constitution. It contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent & is so mild in its operation that it cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady or the tenderest infant of a week old should no worms exist in the body; but will without pain or griping cleanse the stomach and bowels of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms and many fatal disorders. The lozenges are particularly efficacious in carrying off all gross humours and eruptions, feverish and bilious complaints, and are the safest and most est purgative that can be used on any occasion.

Description of Worms, and the symptoms by which they are known.

Worms which infest the human body are chiefly of four kinds viz.—The Terebra or large round worm; the Ascarides or small maw-worm; the Cucurbitaria or short flat white worm; and lastly, the Tenia or tape-worm, so called from its resemblance to tape. This is often many yards long and is full of joints. It is most hurtful and most difficult to remove.

Among the symptoms attending worms are—disagreeable breath, especially in the morning; bad and corrupted gums; itching in the nose, and about the seat; convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes privation of speech; starting and grinding of the teeth in sleep; irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food and sometimes voracious; purging with slimy and fetid stools; vomiting; large and hard belly; pains and sickness at the stomach; pains in the head and thighs and lawness of spirits; slow fever with small and irregular pulse; a dry cough; excessive thirst; sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance, and sometimes the face bloated and flushed.

Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges, which have been constantly attended with success in all complaints similar to those above described.

A dose of this medicine given occasionally during the warm season, will effectually prevent "the vomiting and purging of children"—a dreadful disorder, which annually destroys thousands of the infant part of our citizens. It is likewise the mildest and most certain remedy known, and has restored to health and strength a great number when in an advanced stage of this fatal complaint. Particular and plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in such cases.

Children generally take this medicine with eagerness; having a pleasing appearance, and an agreeable taste.

The Restorative Powder for the Teeth and Gums.

For the prevention and cure of BILIOUS and MALIGNANT FEVERS is recommended.

Hahn's ANTIBILIOUS PILLS

THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of persons can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion. It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason to believe that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age. They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance; they are celebrated for removing habitual cosiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

Hamilton's Elixir,

A sovereign remedy for colds, obstinate coughs, asthma, sore throats, catarrhs, and approaching consumptions.—To persons who have children afflicted with the HOOPING COUGH, this discovery is of the first magnitude, as it affords immediate relief, checks the progress, and in a short time entirely removes the most cruel disorders to which children are liable. The Elixir is perfectly agreeable, and the dose so small that no difficulty arises in taking it.

Hamilton's Grand Restorative,

Is recommended as an invaluable medicine for the speedy relief and permanent cure of Nervous Disorders Violent cramps in Consumptions the stomach and Lawness of spirits back
Loss of appetite Indigestion
Impurity of blood Melancholy
Hysterical affection Gout in the stomach
Inward weaknesses Pains in the limbs and debility Relaxations, etc.

Hamilton's Essence and Extract of Mustard.

A safe and effectual remedy for acute and chronic rheumatism, gout, rheumatic gout, palsy, numbness, white swellings, chilblains, sprains, bruises, pain in the face and neck, etc. etc.

Lee's Ointment for the Itch.

Warranted an infallible remedy at one application, may be used with perfect safety by pregnant women, or on infants a week old, not containing a particle of mercury or any dangerous ingredient whatever, and not accompanied with that tormenting smart which attends the application of other remedies.

Hahn's true & genuine German Corn Plaster.

An infallible remedy for corns, speedily removing their root and branch, without giving any pain.

The Genuine Persian Lotion.

So celebrated among the fashionable throughout Europe, is an invaluable cosmetic, perfectly innocent and safe, free from corrosive and repellent minerals, the basis of other lotions, and of unparalleled efficacy in removing blemishes of the face and skin, freckles, pimples, inflammatory redness, scurfs, tetter, ringworms, sunburns, prickly heat, &c.

Hahn's genuine Eye Water.
